“ What can I say about Chuck. The first thing that comes to mind is tough. To me him and my dad were what "tough" meant, it was getting up to work even when you hurt, it was not complaining about small pains and most of all it was taking care of your loved ones. I spent some great times with my uncle Chuck, from clearing land, building a walk way, and shooting off those darned fireworks that kept falling over and shooting at the chickens, my daughters. Dad, Kathleen, Chuck and Betty. I'd give anything for another chance to sit on my dad's back porch while he had a smoke and we had our coffee, we'd laugh, complain a little but there were also some serious talks some with my dad and uncle Chuck and some with just my uncle Chuck. Those talks changed my life.....I am the man I am today because of those talks and Chuck will always be in my heart and reminding me to be tough and take care of my family. My family sends out prayers and sympathies to Chucks family and like I've told Pam and Betty, we are family and we're here for them.

“ I will never forget Chuck he was one of a kind and I mean that in positive way! I met Chuck in about 1986 when I was married to Jerry Brimer, his best friend and brother in spirit. He came out on a cold rainy winter evening to change my tire, he showed up with Lumber to build a deck that he knew we wanted but had been too busy to build and most of all he helped my son how to work hard, take pride in his work.I know he made my son a better man. RIP Chuck.you were loved and you will be missed.....
