“ Hadn't seen you since you worked for Diversified with Eric, Sam, and my other-half at the time: Jeff Turner, around 1993. The next time I saw you was on the local news having your hospital room torn apart by a couple of absolute imbeciles in police uniforms with nothing better to do. I was completely horrified...not just due to the blatant harassment you received from these idiots, but mostly the severe decline of your health since I last saw you in Versailles in about 1994. I remember Jeff really looking up to you as both a respected mentor, and a great friend. My sincerest condolences to your entire family and anyone who had the privilege of knowing THE Noland Sousley! You truly seemed to have left a beautiful mark on this world. RIP bud.

“ Nearly a decade ago, on the way to or return from a continuing legal education conference at the Lake of the Ozarks, Noland's brother Raymond offered to stop by Noland's home so that I may meet the legendary brother I had heard so many great things about. Ray and I were office mates and from time to time I had the privilege to join in phone calls between Ray and Noland. Ray thought the world of Noland and was very proud of and enthusiastic about him. I always enjoyed chatting with Noland.

There he was standing erect straddling the roof line in nothing but jeans, not even sandals. Noland was the living picture of a youthful ancient god-like countenance with his long flowing mane, barefoot and bare chested directing his heavy set helper in a t-shirt who was on the ground. There were smudge pots burning and spewing clouds of soot into the air and roof debris laying about. It was a surrealistic site, almost movie-set like.

Noland was a trim, very fit, handsome young man with a commanding countenance conducting the restoration of his home's roof. I said, "Look Raymond, it is Jesus ascending !" and Ray just laughed. The picture of a tranquil rural setting framed with soot clouds with soot spewing smudge pots and smouldering tar pot and debris with the heavy set assistant in a white t-shirt lumbering about and then Noland standing Zeuss-like on the roof in nothing but jeans remains unforgettable.

Noland politely interrupted his project for a proper introduction by Ray and we had a cordial chat which was all too brief as Noland needed to get back to work and we needed to get back on the road. Finally, I had the great pleasure in meeting the legendary gentleman and it was an unforgettably positive experience.

From time to time we spoke thereafter and Noland was always a pleasure. Undoubtedly, he has ascended to eternal peace and tranquility having made the world a much better place for all privileged to have known him.

“ Dear Nolan, This has to be one of the hardest things I have ever had to do. You are my best friend and it is hard to believe you are gone. I am going to miss you greatly little buddy. You were never suppose to go before me. You were a good person and a great friend and brother. I will think of you every day. There are so many great memories and I will think of those and smile often.

You were one of the most unique individuals I have ever met and I don't believe I will ever meet anyone like you again. Nolan, you were one of the most intelligent individuals I have every known. You had a very sharp wit. We did so many things over all these years and it is hard to believe it has gone so fast. I am very proud to call you my friend and brother. You will always have a special place in my heart. Deer season is going to be very hard this year. You usually always came to the house and spent opening weekend and the second weekend at the house. It sure will be different without you there.

I can honestly say this you being here on earth you made a difference and you have left a lasting legacy. You brought a voice to the cannabis issue and this will help so many people in the future. There will be a great deal of people who will benefit from your fight. You have four wonderful children, Tyler, Emmy, Logan and Dominick.

I thank you my friend for supporting the pharmacy. You and our friend Lana were some of the first people to support the pharmacy here in Versailles. I thank you for always being there for me. Whenever I needed something you were always there. You meant a great deal to me. When my dog Zeke would run off from my house he always knew where I would be and he would show up at your house. Whenever I see an eagle I will think of you. Say hi to my mom and Zeke. I am really going to miss you. I think Lana must have needed some company. Watch over me and save me a spot near you my friend. I will see you soon.
