“ The last time I saw Billie Lee was when she was visiting Chicago. It's probably no news to anyone there that even shopping for shoes could be an adventure with Billie Lee! I thought travelers checks had disappeared around the time Love Boat went off the air but nope, that's how she paid. We kept in touch by phone and I loved hearing her stories about life in her "tin can" and all the local gossip. (Barnett doesn't have a newspaper but she filled the bill quite well.) One thing about Billie Lee is you always knew where you stood, no matter where that was. May sweet memories provide comfort.

“ I have a memory of my only sister, my Silly Sister and I in the O'Hare airport in Chicago when I was 16. Late for my flight we carried my suitcase between us running pell mell, we swung around a pillar and knocked a man with a red tipped white cane flat. Billie and I were picking him up, apologizing profusely. Billie saying "I'm so sorry Ray, I'm so sorry" We ran on and Billie says excitedly "You know who that was. right? That was RAY STEVENS!!".
I was in fact Ray Charles. I loved her so much.
Rest in Peace beloved sister
