“ Pap: later gater,
me: later gater
Pap: no no no this is where you say after a while crocodile.
Ohh pap,
I'm so glad to have been able to visit you a few times these last few years and got to know you. I will miss our conversations. And you just calling to see how things were, making sure we were safe and that we were okay, how the garden was doing it checking on the kids. Or to remind me to vote and to tell all my friends! Even call the Senate and tell them how I really feel! I love you pap and will forever miss you. Now it's my turn, later gater. Until we meet again Grandad!

When I was young boy Brag to my friends and I said my dad was a war hero But I remember as I got older I said to my dad I said what was it like over Vietnam and he never did tell me so I can't blame what happened to us in the past was all his fault We just don't know what it's like to be in war time Il just can't imagine what he's actually seen in that and that time So now I can see why he made a state distance from all of us but he had a lot of friends back and might have died in that war But we both got close at the end I realized that my father was a real good man he just went through some tough times But the main thing is at the end of his life you realize that God is what he was looking for and he accepted me in is hard and that's why I feel today that he's saved by the Lord My father was a very good man That's why I love him to this day

“ I loved at the end of our phone call he would say good bye alligator and I would say good bye crocodile and we both would laugh. I am happy we got the time to know him more. Most of time growing up he was in the Navy , so we did not get the chance to know him. He will be missed and not forgotten.

When I was a young boy I look up to Dad as hero when served are Our country I always try to ask my dad what was like over there but he never did tell me I can only imagine what held they went through so that's why you never talk about it So that's why I think he got distracted from our lives because he was lost but towards the end we made up for lost time and I really got to know my father how much you meant to me and how much I meant to him I will never forget him he is a good man You're loving son cliff

I looked up our family history on ancestry, I called pap to ask him what his dad and moms names were, and why the last name was spelled McNany. He said he misspelled it in the Navy and never changed it.
