“ I knew Dianna when we were both kids. I was about 8 and she about 10. Dianna would let me ride behind her on her bicycle in Kellyville, Oklahoma. The Cartwright kids were playmates with Dianna and Ola, who lived with their family, who operated the town's telephone system from their residence. I'd love to hear from you, Ola Dawn.--Dixon Cartwright (cartwrite@aol.com)

“ It is truly hard to imagine that I won't be able to see her or talk to her anymore. We shared some great stories together. I've known Dianna since 2009 when I first moved in the area. We both worked in the backroom of Wal-Mart for some time. She had a great personality that was fantastic. If I hadn't talked to her in awhile she would say hey mister! I got a bone to pick with you. I'd say what's up? She'd answer you haven't said hi in what too long. I'd agree then we would chat it up again. She was so supportive, especially when my wife DeAnna and I married or even when I fell ill last year. She'd tell me she's praying for a a fast recovery. She was such a great person to be able to call a friend. I know that both my wife and I will miss her so very dearly.

“ Dianna and I were pretty close friends since the start of me beginning my journey at Wal-Mart. She welcomed me with arms wide open. I never imagined I could had ever made such a great friend as I did in her. I've realized not only my life, but many others she's made great impacts to. She is already and will continue to be dearly missed.
