Some of my favorite memories of my cousin Ed were when my brother John, my sister Lisa and myself would go over to his house. We were a few years younger and we thought the world of him. Ed was a teenager at the time and usually had to practice his piano and accordion lessons every day. He would get off task and start goofing around with us and start playing the "Boogie Woogie" and all other kinds of fun music. His mom would start hollering and tell him to work on his music lessons. Ed was such a talented musician. We loved listening to him play and spending time with him. He had a great sense of humor and always made us laugh. We love you Ed. May God Bless you. Cindy
