“ I didn't really get to know Ivana well until I was in the hospital in Feb. of this year. After she found out, she called me every night. She prayed with me and really knew the Word concerning healing. She always asked about my family. She knew medical terms so she understood a lot of what was going on. She called every week after I came home and was always concerned about everything going on. I just called her a couple of weeks ago to tell her about a preemie grandson that she had been following the pregnancy. She didn't ask things to be nosy. She was just genuinely concerned. She had a heart full of compassion for others. She didn't talk about herself so much, but cared about everyone else's needs. She was a good friend who will be greatly missed. We'll catch up on our talks one of these days!
