“ First time I met Danny, I had spent the night in my car in line at Jacobs Cave, waiting to get a space. The sun came up and I saw him walking back to his vehicle. I rolled my window down to ask him a question, and we talked for quite a while. I coincidentally picked my spot directly across from his. He hollared out” hey neighbor” and I thought small world! He offered to help my mom and I put up our canopies and with any thing we needed. He kept an eye out on our stuff at night, and I brought him coffee in the morning as a thank you. He was fun to talk to and hang out with. I always made sure to pick my spot close by his from then on. Just won't be the same out there anymore! I always looked forward to seeing Danny! He sure will be missed!

We plan to continue his swap meet tradition in his usual spot and across the street. Stop in and say hi.

Yeah we can't let uncle Danny's spot be taken bc those 2 spots are ours.
