“ As a kid, I have such good memories of uncle Mackie. I remember him best for his quick wit and kind and easy nature. I never remember him being mad or upset. He always carried that little twinkle in his eye and then the smile usually followed by that contagious laugh. I remember once when he was left to watch us for a short time, he literally lifted us up one by one so we could swing from the door facings. He was having as much fun as we were. I remember him as a young man when he brought his girlfriend out to the farm to meet us. It was just us kids at home at the time but it seemed important to him that we meet this girl named Janie. My first impression of Janie was how pretty she was and how very nice as well. She also had an easy way about her and a quick smile. Mack and Janie exacerbated admiration and respect for each other and it was evident how much in love they were. I have been so happy but not surprised to know that they raised a beautiful family and stayed bonded in love all these years. I will always remember him and smile and be thankful for the memories he left behind as he traveled through life, even as it burdens my heart to think of the pain of his loss to those that knew and loved this special person.

“ During my time in Versailles Mack and Janie took me under their wing when I became their neighbor. They made me feel like family. Mack spent an endless amount of time helping me with my lawnmower which I was always breaking. He was so patient. He will be missed. My prayers to Janie and the family.

“ I have wonderful memories of Uncle Mac while he lived here in Washington. He fished, hunted, motorcycled with his sister Welda's (Jackie) Leibrant family. His laughter will always be with me. I am saddened that I was not able to visit recently, yet happy I got to talk with him last week. To hear his voice and laugh was wonderful. Love to all of my Missouri family from the Leibrant family.
