“ My Uncle Pete was the best. He was always doing things for me when I was down in the summers that in hindsight I can't imagine where he got the energy, like working a long hot day then coming home and saddling a horse just so i could ride a bit. Of course he had to unsaddle her and cool her down before he rested. And making me welcome for more summers than I can count. Je taught me to shoot and be safe. Asking if I changed my oil.. So so many things. All kinds of my goofiness and he always treated me like it was just fine. Then same for my daughter. There weren't many like him. And we are much sadder this world has lost him. He did leave his mark on more people and generations than I can count.
