“ With a heavy heart, I had to say goodbye to a very dear friend of mine today. We both moved far apart from each other, but although the miles and years grew between us, she had always been in my thoughts and prayers. It was a blessing this past summer when my daughter and I drove across the county and we were able to take a detour to stop in and say hello. No one would have known that we had not seen each other in twenty years, because we just picked up the conversation as if no time had passed.

They say people come into your lives for a reason, season or a lifetime and I am happy to say that Shelia had been all three to me over the years. She was my friend, my mentor and my confidante, she taught me to use my voice and to stay strong in times of weakness. To all those friends that get the "Kathy's Life Lessons Speeches" ...you can thank Shelia because she taught me and I try to pass the wisdom along.

You will be missed my dear friend and I hope to see you again. RIP
