“ I have many memories of Tamara and I as kids growing up together and again as adults working together. One memory that sticks out to me though is from a weekend I spent at her house as kids. We and her sister decided we were going to walk around town in the rain. As it was raining we were jumping in every puddle we could find and I just remember Tams face was lite up from the fun we were having. She was so carefree. She ended up sitting in a puddle and just laughing as it poured down around us. Another memory is of her staying at my house. My grandparents had taken us out to eat and when we got home we found out our barn was on fire. We had to get our horses out as we waited on the fire department and Tam immediately jumped in and took one horse while I grabbed another. She didn't skip a beat she just jumped in and helped us bc that's who she was. It didn't matter if it was an animal or a person she was always willing to help. When we worked together she was so amazing with her patients. They were her family and she loved them dearly. She would come in on days off to see them and she'd bring gifts just to make them happy. She was an amazing caregiver. The world lost a truly beautiful soul when she passed. My heart goes out to her family in this time.
