“ Tammy - oh, Tammy, you left us too soon. What a light in the world you were, and such an inspiring example for us, showing us we, too, can survive horrible abuse and then have a good life afterwards. I never got to meet you, and our paths only crossed online - but you were such a kind, giving, funny, and beautiful soul. You helped me on my journey to get where I am today, past the nex's abuse, and into a better future. I cannot thank you enough. If I were to regret anything in knowing you, it's that I never thanked you directly while you were alive: THANK YOU TAMMY, for being so strong, so kind, and sharing your light to help lead the rest of us out of dark times. THANK YOU. May you rest in peace, and your memory be a blessing. <3 Cynthia

“ Tammy, we became kindred friends and close from our USA and Australian homes, we loved, understood and supported each other through good and hard times.... it seems so surreal that you've gone to heaven now, so suddenly it seems... you were staunch, loyal and a fierce fighting warrior on every level, absolutely stunning, ohhhh those beautiful sparkling blue eyes were so pretty, but it was your heart and soul that prettily flowed and shon from your exterior beauty! You loved fiercely your mother and protected her, we both knew the journey of Alzheimer's .. please say hi to my Dad whose gone to heaven a few months ahead of you.... I've shed many tears Tammy, I will love you always and never forget you ... rest in eternal peace now my beautiful friend! Love you Tammy ❤️💔🌹 ✨✨

“ I will always remember our talks. I remember seeing you pull up in a big 18 wheeler like it was nothin. I remember when we were kids and all the creek parties. I remember sitting in your bedroom and listening to your stories. I remember reconnecting with you because you were always there when Denny and Grandma passed away. I remember our breakfast at the cafe and our night out in Cole Camp listening to music. Most of all I remember how you loved. You were a champion for all underdogs human and canine. I have loved you for a lifetime and will love you forever. Rest now my tough ads friend, your work here is done.

Although our hearts are breaking, Tammy's struggles are over and her work is done. She can rest. She has consoled many and brightened days for others, all with her own special flare. Friends forever, until we meet again.
