“ She was my mom. I didn't get to grow up with here because I was stolen from her. I was her first child, born on Mother's Day. In my 40's, I finally got to spend time and get to know her some....not long enough.

Not sure if it's real, but I was less than age 4 I remember her hanging cloths out on a pop up clothesline, I would hand her clothspins from her apron pocket. I remember her catching rain water to rinse her hair, we'd go outside and I'd watch her comb her hair. Those memories are real to me.
